

WHY FRED HUTCH: Fred Hutch Cancer Center is the first NCI-designated comprehensive cancer center in the Pacific Northwest. Based in Seattle, WA., Fred Hutch is a world-class leader in clinical care, research, and learning, and is clinically integrated with University of Washington Medicine. The Fred Hutch mission is to unite innovative research and compassionate care to prevent and eliminate cancer and infectious diseases. We are driven by the urgency of our patients, and the first cancer center in the nation to offer all three FDA-approved CAR T-cell therapies. Our interprofessional team is comprised of globally recognized providers and world class scientists, including three Nobel Laureates who have revolutionized the prevention, detection, and treatment of many cancers and other diseases.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW: The Administrative Fellowship at Fred Hutch Cancer Center is a prestigious one-year program designed for early careerists in healthcare administration. The program is both rotational and project-based to provide fellows with experiential learning opportunities and broad exposure across a complex oncology organization. Fellows will lead projects that will contribute to the mission of Fred Hutch Cancer Center and engage closely with executive leaders to gain direct exposure to strategic initiatives, operational processes, and organizational governance.

WHO SHOULD APPLY?

At the start of the fellowship program (July 2025), students must have completed and/or be on track to complete their master's degree in health administration (MHA/MHSA), Public Health (MPH), Business Administration (MBA) or similar master's degree program in a related field of study. Applicants should be in the second year of their coursework, except in programs where the second year is a residency.
